Mr. Wilfred H. Rommel
Assistant Director for Legislative Reference
Office of Management and Budget
Washington, D. C. 20503

Dear Mr. Rommel:

Enclosed is a proposed report to Chairman Stennis, Senate Armed Services Committee, in response to a request for our recommendations on S. 2321, a bill "To amend the National Security Act of 1947 to limit to eight years the time any person may serve as the Director of the Central Intelligence Agency, and for other purposes."

Advice is requested as to whether there is any objection to the submission of this report from the standpoint of the Administration's program.

STATINTL

Sincerely,

George L. Cary Legislative Counsel

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY WASHINGTON, D.C. 20505

Honorable John C. Stennis, Chairman Committee on Armed Services United States Senate Washington, D. C. 20510

Dear Mr. Chairman:

This is in response to your request for the recommendations of this Agency with respect to S. 2321, which places limitations on the offices of the Director of Central Intelligence and the Deputy Director of Central Intelligence and modifies the language of section 102(d)(5) of the National Security Act of 1947.

The first section of S. 2321 limits the incumbency in the office of Director of Central Intelligence to eight years or eight years from enactment for the incumbent then in office. Section 102(a) of the 1947 Act now prohibits the simultaneous incumbency of the positions of Director and Deputy Director by commissioned officers of the armed services. The legislative history of this provision of law reflects an interest that the Agency's foreign intelligence product be independent of all policy and departmental influences.

The Director of Central Intelligence must have the full faith of the President to serve effectively as the President's principal foreign intelligence adviser and to assure that objective foreign intelligence information is brought to bear on developing national security policy. I do not believe that a fixed term for the office of Director of Central Intelligence is necessarily consistent with these fundamental objectives. Also, the proposed eight-year term, being the dentical to the maximum term for the Presidency, suggests a political relevancy for the office, which does not and should not exist.

the Director of Central Intelligence is well balanced, preserving the non-political and non-policy nature of the position, while permitting the President necessary discretion in the exercise of his appointment power and providing an opportunity for congressional participation under the advice and consent clause of the constitution.

The first section of S. 2321 also prohibits the simultaneous incumbency of the offices of the Director and Deputy Director by individuals who have been in the employ of the Agency within five years prior to appointment. Since the establishment of the Agency in 1947, three incumbents of these offices have had prior Agency employment, e.g., Mr. Dulles, who was Deputy Director from 23 August 1951 to 26 February 1953 and Director from 26 February 1953 to 29 November 1961; Mr. Helms, who was Deputy Director from 28 April 1965 to 30 June 1966 and Director from 30 June 1966 to 2 February 1973 and myself. In no case have the positions of Director or Deputy Director of Central Intelligence been occupied simultaneously by persons with prior Agency employment. CIA is not a policy oriented Agency, but does have specialized disciplines and distinctive management problems. It would appear that neither the President nor the Senate should be denied the opportunity of appointing and confirming those individuals who by training, dedication and experience may be best suited for the two top management positions in the Agency.

Section 2 of S. 2321 would require that the President specifically authorize in writing every specific function or duty authorized to be performed by the Agency "related to intelligence affecting the national security." Pursuant to current law (section 102(d)(5) of the National Security Act of 1947) this Agency performs such functions and duties "as the National Security Council may from time to time direct." The Agency undertakes no activity under the above quoted statutory provision except at the direction of the National Security Council, whose membership by statute includes the President of the United States, the Vice President and the Secretaries of State and Defense. We defer to the National Security Council on the extent to which the proposed amendment possibly impinges upon the constitutional powers of the President.)

The Office of Management and Budget advises that there is no objection to the submission of this report from the standpoint of the Administration's program.

Sincerely,

W. E. Colby Director
